

Hand Turned Pens

Handcrafted by Owen Wong

I love working with my hands and making things.

In 2017, a woodworking teacher made an exception to the age requirement and let me take his pen turning class at the age of 11.

I am a student at an alternative high school where I am fortunate to be taking classes in; woodworking, glass torch work, welding and bladesmithing. I sold some of my pieces at my school's annual art show and have been making gifts for my family and friends.

I have a workshop at home and have put in many hours honing my skills turning creations on a lathe.

I hope you enjoy your handcrafted purchase.
